

Outliers:

We'll use the `zscore` function from the `scipy.stats` module, which computes the relative Z-score of the input data, relative to the sample mean and standard deviation.

Delete any row with `zscore` greater than 3.